The Northern District of California United States Probation Office seeks to serve the U.S. Court System and improve public safety by investigating and supervising individuals convicted of federal crimes, enforcing sentences, and providing correctional treatment to offenders. The Office is now seeking qualified entry-level Probation Officers. More than one position may be filled from this vacancy announcement.

POSITION DESCRIPTION: All of the following duties and responsibilities are under the guidance and direction of a Supervisory U.S. Probation Officer. Incumbent will conduct investigations and prepare presentence reports assessing convicted individual's ability to pay fines, restitution, cost of prosecution, incarceration, and supervision; apply U.S. Sentencing Commission guidelines and case laws; determine appropriate course of action after analyzing any objections to presentence reports; and resolve disputed issues and testify in court on the basis of factual findings. Incumbent will also develop a supervision plan for offenders, maintain case records, and maintain personal contact with offenders to ensure adherence to court-imposed conditions and required correctional treatment; incumbent will also coordinate, monitor, and verify offenders' activities with substance abuse facilities, counselors, shelters, and/or employment facilities. Selected candidate will also monitor offenders' sources of income, lifestyle, and associates to assess risk and compliance, detect and investigate violations, report violations to the court, and implement appropriate alternatives or sanctions. Incumbent will perform other duties as assigned.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidate must possess a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university in a field of academic study, such as criminal justice, criminology, psychology, sociology, human relations, or business or public administration, which provides evidence of the capacity to understand and apply the legal requirements and human relations skills involved in the position.

The duties of probation officers require the investigation and management of convicted offenders who present physical danger to probation officers and to the public. In the supervision, treatment, and control of offenders, these duties require moderate to arduous physical exercise, including prolonged periods of walking and standing, physical dexterity and coordination necessary for officer safety, and use of self-defense tactics. On a daily basis, probation officers face unusual mental and physical stress because they are subject to danger and possible harm during frequent, direct contact with individuals who are convicted of committing Federal offenses.

Because probation officers must effectively deal with physical attacks and are subject to moderate to arduous physical exertion, applicants must be physically capable. Probation officers must possess, with or without corrective lenses, good distance vision in at least one eye and the ability to read normal size print. Normal hearing ability, with or without a hearing aid, is also required. Any severe health problems, such as physical defects, disease, and deformities that constitute employment hazards to the applicant or others, may disqualify an applicant. Examples of health problems that may be disqualifying are an untreated hernia, cardiovascular disorders, serious deformities or disabilities of the extremities, mental health disorders, fainting and/or seizure disorders, metabolic disorders, bleeding disorders, pulmonary disorders, and marked speech abnormalities.

First-time appointees to positions covered under law enforcement officer retirement provisions must not have reached their 37th birthday at the time of appointment. Applicants 37 or over who have previous law enforcement officer experience under the Civil Service Retirement System or the Federal Employees' Retirement System and who have either a subsequent break in service or intervening service in a non-law enforcement officer position may have their previous law enforcement experience subtracted from their age to determine whether they meet the maximum age requirement.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS: Employment is subject to background investigation and verification of information supplied. Applicants must submit a current resume and letter of interest including an outline of their skills and experience. Applicants must include the Job Code from the job posting in their letters of interest. In addition, applicants must complete and submit the Application For Judicial Branch Federal Employment (AO 78), along with their official college transcripts. Please complete and submit only the current version of the Application (AO 78 (10/09)). Previous versions and all other federal employment applications will not be accepted.

Illegible or incomplete or partially completed application materials will not be considered. Do not submit the same application materials more than once. Although the vacancy announcement is open until filled, it is preferred that completed application materials be received on or before February 12, 2018, by close of business (5:00 p.m. PST) in order to be given first consideration. It is required that you submit your application materials via e-mail to: CANP_Resumes@canp.uscourts.gov.
