Submitted May 7, 2012**

Before: GOODWIN, WALLACE, and GRABER, Circuit Judges.

under 8 U.S.C. § 1252. We review findings of fact for substantial evidence, Zhao v. Mukasey, 540 F.3d 1027, 1030 (9th Cir. 2008), and we deny the petition for review.

Wu's claim for asylum relief fails because substantial evidence supports the agency's determination that the harm Wu experienced did not rise to the level of past persecution, see Gu v. Gonzales, 454 F.3d 1014, 1019-21 (9th Cir. 2006), and Wu failed to demonstrate an objectively reasonable fear of future persecution if removed. See Castro-Martinez v. Holder, 674 F.3d 1073, 1082 (9th Cir. 2011).

Because Wu failed to meet the lower burden of proof for asylum, it follows that he has not met the higher standard for withholding of removal. See Zehatye v. Gonzales, 453 F.3d 1182, 1190 (9th Cir. 2006).

Finally, substantial evidence supports the agency's denial of CAT relief, because Wu failed to establish that it is more likely than not that he will be tortured if he returns to China. See Go v. Holder, 640 F.3d 1047, 1053-54 (9th Cir. 2011).
