U.S. COURT OF APPEALS

IN RE COMPLAINT OF JUDICIAL MISCONDUCT

Nos. 25-90274, 25-90275

ORDER

MURGUIA, Chief Judge:

Complainant, a pro se prisoner, has filed a complaint of judicial misconduct against two district judges. Review of this complaint is governed by the Rules for Judicial-Conduct and Judicial-Disability Proceedings (“Judicial-Conduct Rules”), the federal statutes addressing judicial conduct and disability, 28 U.S.C. § 351 et seq., and relevant prior decisions of the Ninth Circuit Judicial Council. In accordance with these authorities, the name of complainant and the subject judges shall not be disclosed in this order. See Judicial-Conduct Rule 11(g)(2).

The Judicial Conduct and Disability Act provides a remedy if a federal judge “has engaged in conduct prejudicial to the effective and expeditious administration of the business of the courts.” 28 U.S.C. § 351(a). A chief judge may dismiss a complaint if, following review, he or she finds it is not cognizable under the statute, is directly related to the merits of a decision or procedural ruling, or is frivolous or lacks sufficient evidence to raise an inference of misconduct. See 28

U.S.C. § 352(b)(1)(A)(i)-(iii). Judicial misconduct proceedings are not a substitute for the normal appellate review process and may not be used to seek reversal of a judge's decision, to obtain a new trial, or to request reassignment to a different judge.

As background, a jury convicted complainant of multiple counts of impersonating a federal officer in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 912. Complainant has filed numerous misconduct complaints relating either to those proceedings or to other numerous lawsuits he has filed over the last several years.

Here, complainant alleges that the district judges are conspiring with various government prosecutors to “illegally influence court proceedings.” He accuses the district judges of using “gaslighting” tactics and potentially drugging others in furtherance of this conspiracy.

Complainant provides no objectively verifiable evidence to support his outlandish and meritless allegations. Therefore, these allegations are dismissed as frivolous and unfounded. See 28 U.S.C. § 352(b)(1)(A)(iii) (listing reasons the chief judge may decide to dismiss the complaint, including claims that are frivolous or are lacking sufficient evidence to raise an inference that misconduct has occurred); In re Complaint of Judicial Misconduct, 569 F.3d 1093 (9th Cir. Jud. Council 2009) (“claimant’s vague insinuations do not provide the kind of objectively verifiable proof that we require”); Judicial-Conduct Rule 11(c)(1)(C), (D); see also Commentary on Judicial-Conduct Rule 11 (dismissing a complaint as frivolous is appropriate when allegations are facially incredible or so lacking in indicia of reliability that no further inquiry is warranted).

DISMISSED.
