OF THE NINTH CIRCUIT

MOLLY C. DWYER, CLERK U.S. COURT OF APPEALS

IN RE COMPLAINT OF

JUDICIAL MISCONDUCT

Nos. 23-90072 and 23-90073

ORDER

MURGUIA, Chief Judge:

Complainant, a pro se litigant, has filed a complaint of judicial misconduct against a district judge and a magistrate judge. Review of this complaint is governed by the Rules for Judicial-Conduct and Judicial-Disability Proceedings ("Judicial-Conduct Rules"), the federal statutes addressing judicial conduct and disability, 28 U.S.C. § 351 et seq., and relevant prior decisions of the Ninth Circuit Judicial Council. In accordance with these authorities, the names of complainant and the subject judges shall not be disclosed in this order. See Judicial-Conduct Rule 11(g)(2).

The Judicial Conduct and Disability Act provides a remedy if a federal judge "has engaged in conduct prejudicial to the effective and expeditious administration of the business of the courts." 28 U.S.C. § 351(a). A chief judge may dismiss a complaint if, following review, he or she finds it is not cognizable under the statute, is directly related to the merits of a decision or procedural ruling, or is frivolous or lacks sufficient evidence to raise an inference of misconduct. See 28 U.S.C. § 352(b)(1)(A)(i)-(iii). Judicial misconduct proceedings are not a substitute for the normal appellate review process, and may not be used to seek reversal of a judge's decision, to obtain a new trial, or to request reassignment to a different judge.

Complainant alleges the magistrate judge engaged in conspiracy, perjury, and obstruction of justice by recommending that complainant's motion to vacate his criminal sentence be denied. However, complainant offers no evidence to support his allegations, and none can be found in the record. Thus, these meritless allegations are dismissed as baseless and unfounded. See 28 U.S.C. § 352(b)(1)(A)(iii); In re Complaint of Judicial Misconduct, 569 F.3d 1093 (9th Cir. Jud. Council 2009) ("complainant's vague insinuations do not provide the kind of objectively verifiable proof that we require"); Judicial-Conduct Rule 11(c)(1)(D).

Complainant also alleges the district judge engaged in a conspiracy to cover up the crimes of the magistrate judge and others. Again, complainant offers no evidence to support his allegations, and none can be found in the record. Thus, these meritless allegations are also dismissed as baseless and unfounded. See id.

Finally, complainant raises allegations against the government attorney assigned to his case, as well as his former criminal defense attorney. Because the Judicial-Conduct Rules apply only to active federal judges, these allegations must be dismissed. See Judicial-Conduct Rule 1.

DISMISSED.
